General Rules for Employment of Minors Reviewed by School Exec

Teenagers may be employed to work after school and during vacation periods subject only to certain rules and regulations issued by the California Department of Industrial Relations and the United States Department of Labor Standards regarding hazardous occupations, maximum hours, and minimum wages.

In general, permits to work are required for all minors under 18 years of age. These permits are needed to protect both employers and minors from unintentional violation of child labor provisions. The permits are issued by local school districts, according to Dr. C. C. Trillingham, county superintendent of schools.

IN CALIFORNIA, the legal maximum hours for minors is 8 hours a day and 48 hours per week. School attendance time must be included in computing the 8 hour day. No minor may work before 5 a.m. or after 10 p.m. and must have one day of rest in seven.

For employment under the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act, minors are limited to a weekly maximum of 18 hours when school is in session, 40 hours per week when schools are not in session and to an 8 hour day. For those under 16 years of age, night work between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m. is prohibited by the Federal law.

MINORS MAY NOT be paid less than the basic $1 hourly minimum wage established by the Industrial Welfare Commission, except that a lesser rate of 85 cents per hour may be paid provided minors do not exceed 10 per cent of the total number of persons regularly employed. Minors must get at least one full day's rest in each seven days. Minors over 12 years of age may be employed on days school is not in session, i.e. vacations, holidays, Saturdays and Sundays.

Fourteen and fifteen year olds may work outside of school hours in office work, retail sales, newspaper delivery, domestic service and packing fresh fruits and vegetables. They may not work in building and construction, manufacturing, deliveries from motor vehicles, near or in the operation of power-driven machinery, and bowling alleys.

SIXTEEN AND seventeen year olds may work as shipping clerks, in service stations, and as bus boys. They may not work in making explosives, as a motor vehicle driver, in slaughtering or meat packing.

Co-Rec Club Plans Party

Torrance Co-Recreation Club will hold a swim and barbecue party at the city plunge, Monday at 5 p.m.

The group, which is sponsored by the Torrance Recreation Department, is accepting membership from 7th and 8th grade boys and girls. Membership applications to be completed by the parents and the child are available at the parks and the Recreation Dept. office. Membership is 50 cents a year.

Activities planned for June include a trip to Knott's Berry Farm, a Dodge game, and a beach party at Play del Ray. For further information about the group, contact the Recreation Department.
